2020 National President Linward Hedgspeth

Life's most persistent and urgent question is:
"What are you doing for others?"

-Martin Luther King

This year 2020 has been the most astounding year ever! Never in our wild-est imagination did we anticipated the vast social change we have experienced thus far. It was first frightening and uncertain, a new experience for all, and to our Ruritan organization.

First Lady Anne and I unfortunately were unable to do much visiting, because of the pandemic. With the very few visits that we were able to do, it was immensely enjoyable to hear and be a part of the Ruritan stories. We thank the many Ruritans for their gifts, phone calls, cards, well wishes and support.

"In the middle of difficulty lies Opportunity"

The Ruritan organization along with the nation paused for only a brief period to understand the situation at hand. Ruritans quickly SOARED beyond expectation, to find ways to support our communities, first responders, caregivers, the medical establishments, and each other.

You may never know the profound effect that you may have made on a person's life. A kind word or a listening ear can mean so much to someone who is sick, in pain, or lonely. You generously give your most precious commodity, your gift of time. Please know we genuinely appreciate and value your time and commitment to the Ruritan organization and for this We Thank You.

Because of the COVID-19 pandemic and the nation's shutdown we faced many new challenges in 2020, with all clubs and national activities suspended.

The Executive Committee and the Board of Director's Committees were all engaged weekly to develop strategies to navigate through these uncertain times.

Advancement Committee: To enhance the club's ability to compete for community service awards; eliminated the attendance requirements for service awards in 2020 i.e.

- Blue Ribbon
- Outstanding Club President
- Outstanding Club Secretary
- Perfect Attendance
- Ruritan, Ruri-Teen, and Rudy Youth of the Year

Community Service Awards requiring points had the points requirements reduced by 50% for 2020.

Leadership Committee: Initiated weekly meetings to develop an alternative plan for the canceled Annual Ruritan Summer Leadership Conference. Training is essential for our leaders and growth of the organization. Their action resulted in the development of a host of PowerPoint video presentations for distribution to all Ruritan Districts. This accomplishment gives Ruritan the potential to provide training to more leaders than ever before.

Magazine of and published by Ruritan National, Vol. 85, Winter Issue, Ruritan (ISSN: 0036-0147) is published four times a year. RURITAN NATIONAL, P.O. BOX 487, (UPS) 5451 LYONS ROAD, DUBLIN, VA 24084.

Our tomorrows need new and different solutions today. A part of Ruritan's success tomorrow will be because of your innovation and creativity today.

Restructuring Committee: Engaged weekly to research and study the organization (from where we started, where we are now, and make recommendations on where we go from here) and report to the Ruritan National Board of Directors (BOD). A plan was first formulated in 2019, and they made their first report to our BOD in August 2020. The report, recommendations will be offered as a workshop at the National Convention in January 2021 to get input from the delegates. This information will be available to all Ruritans who wish to share their comments and suggestions throughout the year 2021.

Bylaws: This committee has continued to meet every week Examining the national bylaws, district bylaws, club bylaws, current board policy, IRS code, Virginia Law and have tried streamlining our bylaws. They always tried to keep the club, our members, and the communities that we serve in the forefront of their thinking.

National Board of Director Meeting: Was tasked with holding a board meeting while keeping ourselves and all participants safe. Our first hybrid board meeting was (in person and via Microsoft Teams). There was an unprecedented number of motions presented, and we had full board participation.

Memorial:

We have lost a number of loyal dedicated Ruritans in 2020. Our deepest sympathies go out to the families. May God give you the peace that you seek. May our condolences bring you comfort and may our prayers ease the pain of your loss. I offer you my thoughts, prayers, and well-wishes during this dark time in your life.

I would like to acknowledge the accomplishments and express my appreciation to the Ruritan National Board of Directors and National Staff for their service. They have surely endured the COVID-19 challenge, they have SOARED like eagles, and they have stood RURITAN STRONG!

Let Your Light Shine

Light. Without darkness no one would recognize the light. It pierces the darkness in a way that allows us to see all the good the dark is hiding. Sometimes we take the light for granted. Good things happen all the time.

People are almost conditioned to see the problems or the roadblocks or the bad things happening in the world all around us. Wouldn't it be nice to turn on the evening news and see story after story of all the good things that people are doing all over the world? Wouldn't it be nice to take the remote and go from channel to channel and see good deed after good deed being done in every state of the nation, or every country of the world? By and large this is not the way things are presented to us. We see all the problems of the world and after we are sufficiently depressed, we get one good news story to try to pierce the darkness we were subjected to over the last hour or half hour.

Not so with your Ruritan magazine. Take your remote and go from page to page of our magazine and see story after story of the light we bring to communities. See the peoples lives you touch with grants, or awards, or just plain help. These acts are light.

Your generosity to First Lady Anne's program to help St. Jude is light. Children and their families get bad news every day of every year. You have been and will be light to those children and families. St. Jude is light to those children and families.

Your generosity is a warm blanket wrapped around these children in the cold experience of a cancer diagnosis. Thank you for being the kind, giving people that I know you to be. Thank you for being thoughtful and giving to children and families that you may never meet or know. That is the spirit of light Ruritan brings to the community.

We have all been tested by the hardships of the pandemic. From day to day, week to week and month to month the landscape changes, and how we operate in it. It would have been easier to just stop and wait for this all to be over to get back to the work we do. But that is not our way. We rise to this, just as we have risen to all other obstacles by rolling up our sleeves and getting to work helping the people that need us. I have no doubt that you will continue bringing light to your community.

We hope that your families are safe and well. We hope that the Christmas season brings you light and hope. Thank you for all that you do to make this country and world better one community at a time.

National Convention Safety Measure Update

Safe, confident, reassured, relieved, and excited are a few words to describe how the 2021 Convention team feels after a recent visit to Covington. We were shown how social distancing will be handled for our meetings, meals, workshops, and other events. We will be following NKY guidelines for social distancing which allows for a limited number of people at each table. The team is working closely with the convention center and hotels to make sure that you will be able to enjoy another great convention.

Your name badge, convention program, and annual report will be mailed to you two weeks prior to the convention. This will eliminate lines at the registration and credentials booth. Make sure you bring these items with you. We will not be printing extra copies.

COVID-19 safety guidelines and regulations are in place and will be followed by all attendees. A few changes that you will notice are at the Embassy Suites, which is currently not able to offer their breakfast buffet. They are offering a grab-and-go breakfast which consists of a boiled egg, granola bar, fresh fruit, muffin, and juice. Their nightly manager's reception will now consist of each adult receiving two tickets to redeem at the front desk. The Marriott is not able to offer their breakfast buffet at this time, but you may order from a modified menu. Social distancing is in place at both hotels for your safety.

Before you enter the convention center, all attendees must stop at the Covington 1 Room, located in the Marriott, for a quick temperature check. You will also be asked to fill out a short questionnaire concerning COVID-19 symptoms. Attendees will be required, by COVID-19 restrictions in place by the state of Kentucky, to wear face masks at all times when not in your hotel room. Please note that this is being done for your safety as well as the safety of your fellow Ruritans in attendance, and we ask that you follow these rules closely.

We will get through this Together!

Banquet Entertainment Landau Eugene Murphy, Jr.

Landau first burst onto the national conscience as the Sinatra-and-Soul singing season six winner of NBC TV's "America's Got Talent" with his incredible voice, undeniable charisma and unparalleled showmanship.

Backed by the dynamic Landau Big Band, you'll enjoy the arrangements of Great American Songbook classics, Dean Martin, Nat 'King' Cole and that special Motown Magic that we all love!

After the show, you'll have the opportunity to meet Landau one-on-one for photos and have the chance to talk with him about his incredible rags-to-riches story. "It's my favorite part of the night. Sometimes I'm the last one at the venue, talking to fans and friends. The janitor is waiting on me to lock up!"

Even in 2020 when all national touring entertainers were forced to cancel all their dates due to the pandemic, Landau kept busy with a series of online appearances. He was a presenter at the Casino Entertainment Awards, headlined several public service campaigns for COVID safety, Gold Star families, voter safety and hosted a virtual concert series. And, he put his time unable to tour and perform to good use, studying online for several months and receiving his high school equivalency diploma over 30 years after leaving high school. Landau said "Having a diploma is the difference for a lot of people between living in poverty their whole lives or having a solid foundation to succeed. I just wanted to show folks that it's never too late to achieve your dreams."

Donate Rudy Bears to Brighton Center in Kentucky

Brighton Center - a community of support - wants our Rudy Bears for children who enter the program. Will you help us flood Brighton Center with Rudy Bears? Together-we can make a child smile! Call your Ruritan National Office 877-787-8727 and say "Yes" I want to donate a Rudy Bear to Brighton Center. You will be glad you did!

Mission

To create opportunities for individuals and families to reach self-sufficiency through family support services, education, employment and leadership.

Vision

To be an innovative leader that strengthens the vitality of the community and engages people as they work and live to achieve their hopes and dreams.

What We Do

Brighton Center wraps a community of support around individuals and families by tackling the issues that prevent people from becoming self-sufficient, removing the barriers they face, and creating hope so that goals can be achieved and dreams realized. From our modest beginnings in 1966, we have grown to provide a wide range of programs and services which include meeting basic needs, adult and early childhood education, workforce development, substance abuse recovery for women, affordable housing, financial education and counseling, youth services, and neighborhood based programs.

How We Change Lives

Our comprehensive approach to bundling services and programs allows us to meet the often complex needs of a family. Our approach is based on a philosophy that families become our partners in creating change by sharing their hopes and dreams then setting goals to accomplish them. Self-sufficiency is a constantly evolving process and we have learned that families move through the continuum based not only on their current situation but also their long-term goals. Our Financial Opportunity Center (FOC) model of service provides structure for bundling services for our customers from three core service areas: Employment Services, Financial Counseling, and Income Supports. The combination of services working in tandem empowers our customers through increased earnings; reduce expenses, and the knowledge to make appropriate financial decisions that lead to asset building. As an agency we bundle services based on the individualized needs of those we serve based on their hopes and dreams for the future.

Who We Serve

In Fiscal Year 2018, Brighton Center impacted the lives of 43,736 individuals from infants to senior citizens through 41 distinct programs and services in the Northern Kentucky / Greater Cincinnati area.

Why We Serve

Even the smallest of obstacles can lead to huge barriers in achieving stability. Each and every day we celebrate victories our families achieve as they build a strong foundation for life. We tackle the barriers that lead to a crisis in the first place.

Many of the people who come to Brighton Center have struggles related to:

Finding jobs paying a livable wage

Affordable housing

Quality childcare options

Help pursuing educational opportunities without taking on more debt

Managing their finances.

Where they see an impossible amount of barriers, we see strength and determination and with that, our families start believing again in what they had lost... HOPE!

Our Core Values

Everyone has inherent worth and dignity and will be treated with respect.

Families and individuals we serve know their situation best and are able to make decisions that affect their lives.

We promote strong relationships with families and individuals, partnering with them to build on their strengths and encourage them to be resources to each other and their community.

Join us at the First Lady Luncheon to hear Ashley Edwards and her first-hand experience with St Jude Children's Research Hospital

Our son, Caden, was a typical five year old boy who loved to play t-ball, work in the garden, and ride the golf cart with his Papa. He was full of life and energy. In the winter of 2016, Caden began to experience severe migraines, nausea and vomiting, erratic sleep patterns, and extreme lethargy. Despite many treatment plans from his pediatrician, Caden's symptoms did not subside. At one of his appointments, he did not pass the routine vision screening so we did a follow up with our family ophthalmologist. It was at this appointment we knew something was terribly wrong because Caden's optic nerves were severely swollen. The ophthalmologist sent us to Duke University Hospital and it was there on April 22, 2017, that Caden was diagnosed with a rare brain tumor called craniopharyngioma. Craniopharyngioma is a benign tumor that forms close to the pituitary gland. Even though the tumor is benign, it has life altering effects. Caden developed permanent optic nerve damage, diabetes insipidus, adrenal insufficiency, hypothalamic obesity, and is on full hormone replacement for life.

To treat the tumor, Caden underwent a craniotomy at Duke and then we were referred to St. Jude Children's Research Hospital in Memphis, TN for proton radiation therapy. St. Jude is home to the world's first proton therapy center solely for children. St. Jude also has a renowned oncologist that specializes in craniopharyngioma. Once arriving in Memphis, our family was once again blindsided as we discovered that Caden would need to undergo another craniotomy before receiving 30 rounds of radiation all of which took place at St. Jude.

We stayed long-term at St. Jude from July to October. We were provided with a fully furnished apartment, daily meals, money for groceries, shuttle services, airline travel, and above all else peace-of-mind because our son was receiving the best treatment available. As a St. Jude family, we never received a bill for medical expenses, food, housing, or travel. Caden returns to St. Jude every six months for extensive blood work, MRIs, and follow-ups with speech, neurology, psychology, and endocrinology. St. Jude goes beyond just treating the patient. From the moment you step on campus you are fully consumed by people that put your child's health and family first.

We thank God for St. Jude and the blessing that they have been to our family and it is an honor to help support the Ruritans in their efforts to raise money for such a remarkable place. I can truly say that each and every penny that is donated to this hospital goes to saving children's lives.

Message From 2020 Foundation President Brent Wheeler

Continue to Support your Foundation

I still find it difficult to accept that this Ruritan year is rapidly ending. It has been anything but a normal year for each of us. Through it all the Foundation has continued to work. Our meetings with Investment Advisor Scott Carr have been ongoing and the pay out for BY$ will be decided after our upcoming meeting.

With clubs only now beginning to meet, the Foundation made the decision to extend the deadline for club's $300 deposit. The new deadline ended October 30th and was outlined in a blast update. Thank you to all who reached out to us and who took advantage of the extension.

As the Ruritan year comes to an end I would like to thank everyone for your support over the past years. Sheltering in place had not been my plan for this year but it was what was mandated for our safety. Safety was the reason for cancelling the Foundation Weekend. The hotel could not insure our safety nor provide the food and accommodations we have previously enjoyed. It is also why we haven't visit clubs and have watched other fun events being cancelled.

As our Rutitan National Convention approaches my years on the Foundation will end. I ask you to continue to support the Foundation with your donations and through its programs. Rest assured the Foundation will continue to grow under the direction of the 2021 Foundation President O.H. Bobbitt and the other Trustees. Again-thank you for this wonderful opportunity of service you have given me.

God Bless America and may He also Bless our efforts as Ruritans.

Hickory Holds Blood Drive

Under the leadership of club member Fred McKenna and several other club members, the Hickory Club has been holding blood drives at its clubhouse since 2009. Normally five blood drives are held annually and have resulted in the collection of over 1,600 units of blood. Although COVID-19 struck this country in January 2020, the club was allowed to continue with blood drives, and it is noteworthy to advise that the donations have almost doubled during the year 2020. Blood is always needed, and the Hickory Ruritan Club is proud to be a supporter of this most significant need. Club member Glenn Bucher is shown relaxing after his donation. Pictured donating blood is Event Chair Fred McKenna.

Windsor Club owes a debt of gratitude to businesses and club members in the greater Windsor community for their generosity. An appeal was made to the community to help fully fund the club's charitable giving to local organizations. Contributors were CK Brokerage, Manry Rawls Ins., Indika Farms, Holland Farms, Ted Lawson, Adam Bryant Durwood and Carolyn Scott, Mid-Atlantic Dairy Queen, Old Point National Bank, Scott and Associates Realty, Michael Roggmann, RW Baker Funeral Home, Colonial Farm Credit, Southern VA Forest Products, Commonwealth Gin, Farmers Bank, Windsor Hardware, and Birdsong Peanuts. Having canceled dinner meetings and fundraisers because of restrictions, the Windsor Ruritan Club voted that the money they would have spent should go to local groups above their regular contributions. The amount of $5,000 was split between Foodbank of Southeastern VA., For Kids, Western Tidewater Free Clinic, and Suffolk Meals on Wheels.

Short Pump Holds Charity Golf Tournament

Short Pump Ruritan Club organized twenty-four teams for their Annual Charity Golf Tournament which was held in September. The tournament honored the memory of WWII veteran Russell Scott who passed away last fall at age 99. In recent years, he was the honoree at the club's golf tournaments for his service as a tail-gunner in the Army Air Corp, a prisoner of war survivor, and longtime volunteer to organizations like the McGuire Veterans Hospital, the Virginia War Memorial, and his church. The tournament sponsor, Old Dominion Insulation, (Roddy Davoud), luncheon sponsor BJU Architects (Bill Upton), and gold-star sponsor Morningstar Construction (Mike Murphy) ensured through their generous donations that this tournament would make a significant impact on the Short Pump community. The club supports numerous local charities, including major beneficiary, The Fisher House at McGuire Veterans Hospital in Richmond. Thanks to the sponsors, friends, volunteers, and members, this year's tournament was the most successful ever, netting over $20,000.

Shawquon Makes 876 Pints of Apple Butter

Shawquon Club kicked off its annual Labor Day apple butter production. Golden Delicious Apples were used donated from Loretta McDonald's 1,500-acre Springwood Farms orchard near Stephens City. Over the course of two days, more than 4,000 apples were peeled, cored, and segmented by the apple peeler making three 50 gallon copper kettles of apple snits. Each kettle required 14 bushels of apples which, after peeling and core removal, were manually trimmed down to nine bushels of snits. The cooking of 27 bushels of snits took approximately 12 hours per kettle and eventually produced 876 pint jars of delicious Shawquon Apple Butter.

Club President Gary Bunch said, "There is no better way to savor the sweet goodness of tasty homemade apple butter throughout the winter months than by keeping several pint jars in the kitchen cupboard. The club raised $4,300 to be used for college scholarships to local high school seniors. Marshall Shiley and Merrill Hausenfluck (top right) are shown preparing apples to be manually placed in cups on an antique peeler. Karen Anderson, Joyce Hausenfluck, Pam Shiley and Loretta McDonald (top left) are shown working to remove any residual core, seeds, or skin from the apple pulp. Rick Keeler is shown stirring the apple butter.

Roaring Round Hill Plants Community Garden

Members of the Roaring Round Hill Ruri-Teens wondered how they were going to help the community during a time of isolation. They knew they wanted to continue to make a difference in the community but struggled to find ways to help. After a couple of discussions and trying to figure out what was needed during this time, the club decided to provide the basics, food. Together they spent the summer digging, planting, watering, nurturing, and weeding. Soon, the harvest would be ready for picking and delivering. With the help of family and friends the club was able to provide food to neighbors. Pictured are Samantha, Rebecca Wilson, and Heaven-Lee.

He makes one run a week which produces about 18 jars and it takes him about three hours. He also spends another two hours a week or so delivering the bags of food

Don't Give Up - Give Back!

The MMS is a Useful Tool for All Ruritans

The Ruritan Membership Management System (MMS) can work for all Ruritans and all Ruritan officers, if you know what options are available. Every Ruritan member is entitled to log into the MMS. If you need assistance – contact the staff at service@ruritan.org or toll free at 877-787-8727. Your "Member ID" is your member number which appears on your RURITAN magazine mailing label. Staff can generate a temporary password for you to use the first time you log on and you can create your own secure password for future use.

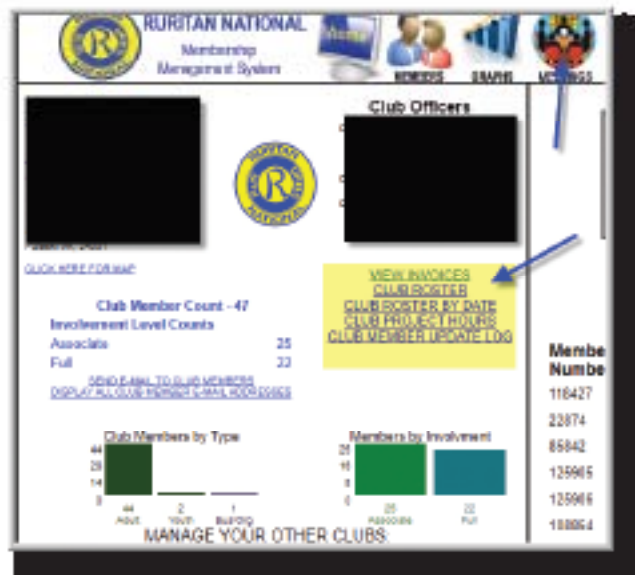

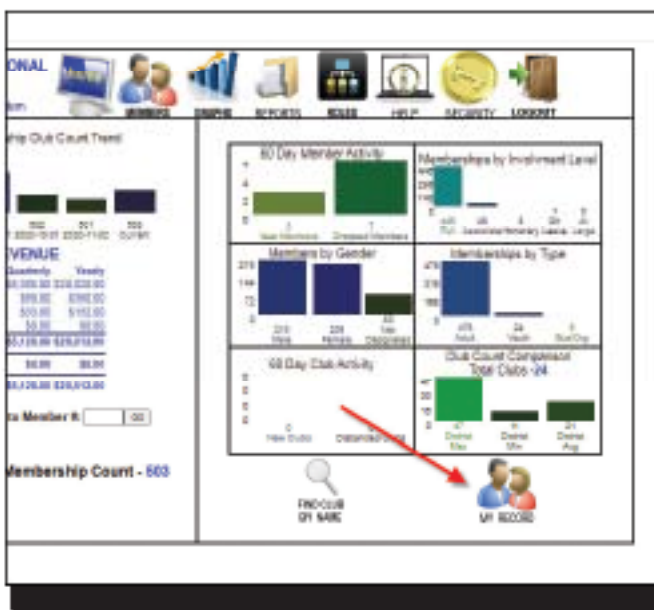

What can the average Ruritan member see on the MMS? It depends upon the offices you have held. If you have never held a club or district office, you will only see your own information. And who is better than YOU to correct and edit that information? Feel free to fix errors in your mailing address, phone numbers etc. Always click "update" at the bottom of the screen when you finish editing your information.

From your personal page you can also take on-line training modules and register for events, such as the national convention.

If you are currently, or have ever been, a club officer – when you log on the MMS you land on your club's home page. From there you can review each club member's information, record project hours, update meeting attendance and pull rosters and other reports. You can also now see your history of quarterly invoices and even when payments have been applied. You may choose "my record" in the lower right corner at any time and go directly to your own page where you can edit your data, take training, and register for the convention.

Club officers can review rosters and make sure all the members' involvement level and membership type are correct (i.e. youth or adult, associate or active.) The more accurate each club's data is – the more accurate the database will be for us all.

If you are a district officer (or have ever been a district officer) you will end up on your district's home page when you log on the MMS. From there you can pull reports, like membership statistics, club dues balances, and your district directory.

This information will help you, as a district officer, to focus attention on clubs who seem to be struggling with members or behind on dues payments. You can also congratulate clubs who are growing and active. You can help clubs set goals for growth and recovery. You can bring these issues to the attention of the rest of your district cabinet with good data from the MMS to back up your concerns.

You can also, of course, choose "my record" from the bottom right corner to see your data, use the on-line training, and register for events.

If you have any questions about using the MMS – your Ruritan staff stands ready to help you get the most out of the data management system. The 2021 Club and District Officers' Handbook also features detailed information (pages 5-9) on the MMS and how to make the most of the options at each level of use.

The MMS provides a wealth of information for Ruritans to manage their own data, for clubs to maintain accurate records and for district officers to provide the best support for Ruritans who are working hard to improve America's communities.
